TRIED & TESTED

Scalp Renew
Dermabrasion, $44,
by Nioxin, nioxin.com

What is it? Like a facial for your scalp, this in-salon service deeply cleanses and exfoliates the scalp's surface to remove build-up around hair follicles and create a healthy environment for hair growth. The treatment is especially recommended for those with concerns about thinning hair.

Our fester says: "I was warned my scalp might feel tingly - and it did, but it wasn't uncomfortable. When you think about it, it absolutely makes sense to treat the skin on your scalp the same as you would the skin on your face. With that in mind, I'll be booking in for bimonthly appointments."

LOOK: KATE'S COLOUR

Forget the tiara, the Duchess of Cambridge's crowning glory is that hair. Have your own princess moment at George Giavis Salon (theblonderoom.com.au), which now carries Tierra by Fuente, the organic colour range Chelsea hairdresser Richard Ward uses on Kate. "Fuente delivers brilliant colour with the best shine and condition I have seen," says Giavis. "Most clients report their hair is in much better condition after colouring." Prices start from $150 for the base colour, then you can get natural highlights on top (à la Kate) to create depth and body.

NEWSLASH

Love Those Lashes has "unlashed" its latest discovery: human hair eyelash extensions, which are "the most natural and finest extensions available". They are über-fine and long and can last for up to eight weeks. $495 for a full set. lovethoselashes.com.au.
