MOSAIC MAKE-UP

Move over, mono-coloured palettes - the latest blushes, bronzers and highlighters feature a kaleidoscope of colours that are designed to be worn simultaneously. To use these multi-tonal palettes, simply swirl a big, fluffy brush in a circular motion across all the different colours, then sweep over the face. The result is a colour that has a subtle and nuanced effect.

ECO-HAIR

Haircare has gone green with eco-friendly products. The new Garnier Fructis Pure Shine range boasts a 92 per cent biodegradable formula, free from silicones, parabens and colourants - meaning you don't have to worry about what's going down your shower drain. Meanwhile, the Parlux 3800 Eco Friendly Ionic & Ceramic Dryer is a favourite among stylists, not only for its six-speed heat settings, but also because it is emission friendly and its components and packaging are made from recyclable, non-toxic materials.

Bespoke Perfume 10ml $55
AUDRA JAMES BOTANICALS

Jessica Alba likes to create her own fragrances by using a "concoction of different organic essential oils"

BESPOKE PERFUME

Why run the risk of having the same signature scent as someone else? Popular for weddings or other special occasions, bespoke perfumes are tailor-made for the wearer. Brisbane-based aromatherapist Audra James creates each unique concoction by having clients fill out a questionnaire that asks everything from, 'What's your favourite season?', to, 'What foods have you had an unpleasant reaction to?' Audra then uses this scent profile to develop a fragrance made from a blend of natural and organic essential oils so that your new scent is as individual as you are.

NIGHTY NIGHT

Having trouble catching some zzz's? Ease into a long and peaceful slumber with some help from these new sleep-enhancing beauty products. Think of them as the beauty equivalent of a lullaby - lavender is an ingredient renowned for its soothing ability. Spritz your pillow with a mist or apply the butters and balms to key pressure points such as the temples, wrists and feet to ensure a good night's rest.

Flapper STYLE

Australia's Next Top Model head stylist Joh Bailey shows us an easy way to recreate the key hairstyle of the 1920s

The fashion and beauty of the roaring '20s is a trend on the rise. The era renowned for everything from flappers to finger waves has become the subject of Baz Luhrmann's upcoming movie, The Great Gatsby, as well as hit series Underbelly: Razor, making it the perfect subject matter for this week's shoot on Australia's Next Top Model. Celebrity hairstylist and TRESemmé spokesperson Joh Bailey shows us how to recreate this stunning '20s-inspired look at home.

Tip!

A traditional finger wave can be very difficult to do on yourself - here, Joh offers an easier version of the classic hairstyle

24 Hour Body Amplifying Mousse $7.99 TRESEMME

Dressing Comb $26.95 MASON PEARSON

3200 Ceramic & Ionic Compact Dryer $174.95 PARLUX

Bobby Pins (60 pack) $3.50 HAIR FX

- 1 Generously apply mousse (A) to damp hair, then use a comb (B) to create a deep side part and brush straight.
- 2 Working first on the side with more hair, start from the part and pull hair forward tightly to create a wide C shape along the front of the head and back towards the hairline. Hold the shape with bobby pins (C).
- 3 Gently, without pulling hair out of the bobby pin, keep creating that C shape two more times until you hit the ear. Repeat this process on the opposite side. Pull remaining hair back into a low bun.
- 4 Spray with hairspray then use a hair dryer (D) and blast locks, alternating between hot and cold. Once dry, carefully remove the bobby pins.
