Celebrity hair trend BOUFFANT

Forget about Mr Big – nowadays, Sarah Jessica Parker is all about the big hair! Proving that she still holds plenty of sway as a trendsetter, the Sex and the City fashionista inspired a '70s styling revival with her bouffant blow-out at the recent Robin Hood Foundation Gala in New York. 'We love big hair!' Australian stylist Stevie Corthine from Sydney's Stevie English Hair says. 'It's fun and it works well with the '70s fashion looks we are seeing right now, like high-waisted, wide-leg pants and jetset style.'

The retro trend has been gaining momentum for a while now, with fashion shows like 2011 Gucci spring/summer and Chloé autumn/winter referencing the era. Since then, celebs like Cheryl Cole have jumped on the bandwagon by stepping out with a big do. Thankfully, a spate of new volumising styling products and tools have hit the market, meaning replicating this hip style doesn't mean also having to revive the perm!
