BBB: BRUSHING WET HAIR

THE CRIME What's one of the biggest beauty no-nos? Brushing your hair when it's wet. "When the hair is wet, the elasticity is poor which, when brushed, can cause the hair to break," says Alan.

THE FIX The best way to deal with wet hair is to start from the ends of the hair and slowly work your way up towards the roots. "This helps stop the hair from tearing as it slowly detangles the hair," Alan instructs us. "Try using a wide-tooth comb as the teeth are soft and bendy, instead of tearing."

BBB: NAIL BITING

THE CRIME Chomping on your nails not only causes cracked cuticles and gross-looking tips, it can also disturb your nail bed and impact on future nail growth. Gnawing on your cuticles as well? You're at risk of a painful infection.

THE FIX File jagged edges if needed. Next, an anti-bite treatment tastes revolting BUT that's the point! Apply this daily to prevent you from pecking at your nails. Then, apply a hardening polish to strengthen the nail bed and bring them back to life.
